

RLUK

Executive Director

Not less than £60,000.

Research Libraries UK is a consortium of 29 of the UK's leading research libraries committed to working collaboratively towards our vision that the UK should have the best research library support in the world. RLUK is building on the achievements of our previous existence as CURL (the Consortium of Research Libraries in the British Isles) to take forward a wider and more comprehensive agenda focused on the potential of national and international partnerships, developing the full potential of the RLUK community, and securing the benefits of collaboration for our member institutions.

You will have the vision and drive to work with the Board and the Chair of RLUK to provide strategic leadership for this forward-looking organisation which now occupies a central place in the UK research information infrastructure.

Travelling extensively, but with a high proportion of business conducted in London, you will be responsible for developing and taking forward our strategic agenda as a member of the RLUK Board. You will also have responsibility for the administrative and budgetary management of the consortium.
